ST. URSULA ACADEMY

1339 East McMillan Street
Cincinnati 6, Ohio

Archbishop Officiates at Dedication of Gym-Auditorium

The Most Reverend Archbishop Karl J. Alter, walks in procession from the academy chapel to the new building. He is accompanied by Fathers Leonard J. Vonder Brink and Albin H. Rattermann.

Most Reverend
Clarence G. Issenmann,

Auxiliary Bishop of Cincinnati and Father Superior of the Ursuline Nuns, signs a record for Mother Catherine.

At gym entrance Archbishop Alter sprinkles holy water as he reads the prayers for dedication of a school. To the right of His Grace are Fathers Ratermann and Tenover. Acolytes are Don Strasinger and Gary Voegele.

High school girls, led by Nancy Folz, sodality prefect, carrying the school banner, chant the Litany of the Saints in the Dedication ceremony.

Dedication

"Appreciate the countless sacrifices of your parents," is Mother Catherine's sound advice to the student body each year. Mother seldom realizes that she too has made many sacrifices for us.

As we graduate, Mother is finishing her third six-year term as Superior and President of the Faculty Council. In that time she has seen the high school division increase from 45 to 140, and the total academy enrollment from 209 to 412.

To the faculty and students of St. Ursula, Mother Catherine has always represented remarkable strength and leadership. We, the Class of '55, will remember her cheerful greetings and funny stories about "Budgy" and the pet canaries.

To Mother Catherine — Ursuline teacher, religious, administrator—we gratefully dedicate the 1955 'Crest."

SENIOR FAREWELL SONG

(Music by Sheila Campbell MacDonald, '45)
(Words by Irene Schueler Cabot, '45)

Theme

A new dawn has come
And an old sun has set;
We go forth from you
But we'll never forget
The joys and all the pleasures
We've shared every day;
Deep in our hearts
Memories sweet ever stay.
Whatever may come
In the years that unfold,
We'll all to the love
Of St. Ursula hold;
For time shall never sever
The friendships we treasure
With you, dear St. Ursula.

We, the Senior Class of 1955, have chosen the words so dear to the heart of every St. Ursula girl to be the theme of the fourth volume of "CREST", our school yearbook. We could not choose a more appropriate theme than the SENIOR FAREWELL SONG for this, the first yearbook published by the Senior Class of the academy.

"For time shall never sever
The friendships we treasure
With you, dear St. Ursula."

'A new dawn has come . . . '

"Throw your arms up and yell — that's the African in you!" were Mrs. Mullinger's directions for a new African dance. The gals and their dads complied.

Three tap dance artists from a Variety Show routine are Kay Schubeler, Barbara Regan, and Mary Jo Schanzle.

A "new dawn" indeed has come to SUA. Old grads will scarcely recognize their Alma Mater, as they see — the dances in St. Angela Hall; the inter-school basketball games complete with cheerleader corps; the long cavalcade of student cars parked each day on the front driveway — result of the drivers' training course; the room-length cosmetic mirrors and make-up tables in the new dressing rooms; tap dancing and ballet rehearsals for the variety show; and the twenty-foot Cinemascope screen for bigger and better movies.

Martha Coldiron and Marjorie Smith curtsy after a performance of the folk dance, "Hol Di Ri Di."

Peggy Ritter and Mr. Singer do the "Charleston" at the Pops Hop. Mary Jean Smith does likewise with an unseen partner. Sally Singer, Sheila Dorney, and Mr. Ritter look on from the sidelines.

Making good use of the new dressing rooms are seniors Marcella Huber, Judy Bohart, Mary Claire Murphy, and Jo Ann Esslinger, as they prepare to give a dramatic skit, "Spring Daze."

Cheerleader captain, Carol Jean Schuchter, leads the famous U-R-S-U-L-A cheer, ably helped by Mary Jean Smith, Alice Kollman, Barbara Toerner, Donna Schubeler, and Joan Lambers. Players on the Varsity basketball squad rest between quarters.

'And an old sun has set . . . '

As we reminisce over some of our past experiences at SUA, we are gay, joyful, sometimes sad . . . Do you remember —

. . . Our Lady's shrine after a snowfall?

. . . when we had our pix taken for the '51 Crest?

. . . the old basketball court?

. . . when Ginny and Mary Lou tried out for the Symphony poster contest?

. . . when we were hostesses for eighth graders at our Freshman Tea?

. . . the many times we took part in Chapel processions?

. . . as sophs, presenting the unique "vegetable" assembly?

Who's Who

. . . how some of us looked in the eighth grade?

'We go forth from you . . . '

Class of '55

Although the Class of '55 will probably never produce a Barrymore or Bernhart, they always enjoyed putting on a play of any kind.

Certainly their most unusual performances were their Senior Class Plays. Lest we forget these unique productions, each senior is here presented with her most memorable line.

Carol Jean Schuchter

President of the Senior Class

"There are lots of books nobody has ever heard of."

"By the Beautiful Sea" had the following cast: Arlene Anness, Sally Moore, Bonnie Laurie, Virginia Haman, Patricia Kunzi, Sheila Dorney, Joan Metz, Jane Metz, Patricia McDonald, Barbara Toerner, Martha Wittekind, Jacqueline Sheppard, Dorothy Crawford, Mary Agnes Hickey, Ruth Bissmeyer, and Betty Hoffman.

Martha Wittekind

"I like love stories with a lot of mush."

Vice President of the Senior Class

Appearing in "Xingu" were Joan Lambers, Peggy Ritter, Nancy Eckert, Jessie Mountel, Patty Kotte, Carol Jean Schuchter, Diane Mairose, Alice Kollman, Nancy Folz, Kay Brautigan, and Mary Louise Freeman.

'But we'll never forget . . . '

Class of '55

Arlene Anness

"A bit too breezy, perhaps!"

Judy Bohart

"I was wandering on a lonely cloud."

Ruth Bissmeyer

"That's what comes of running around and getting all overheated."

Dorothy Crawford

"I must get to my knitting."

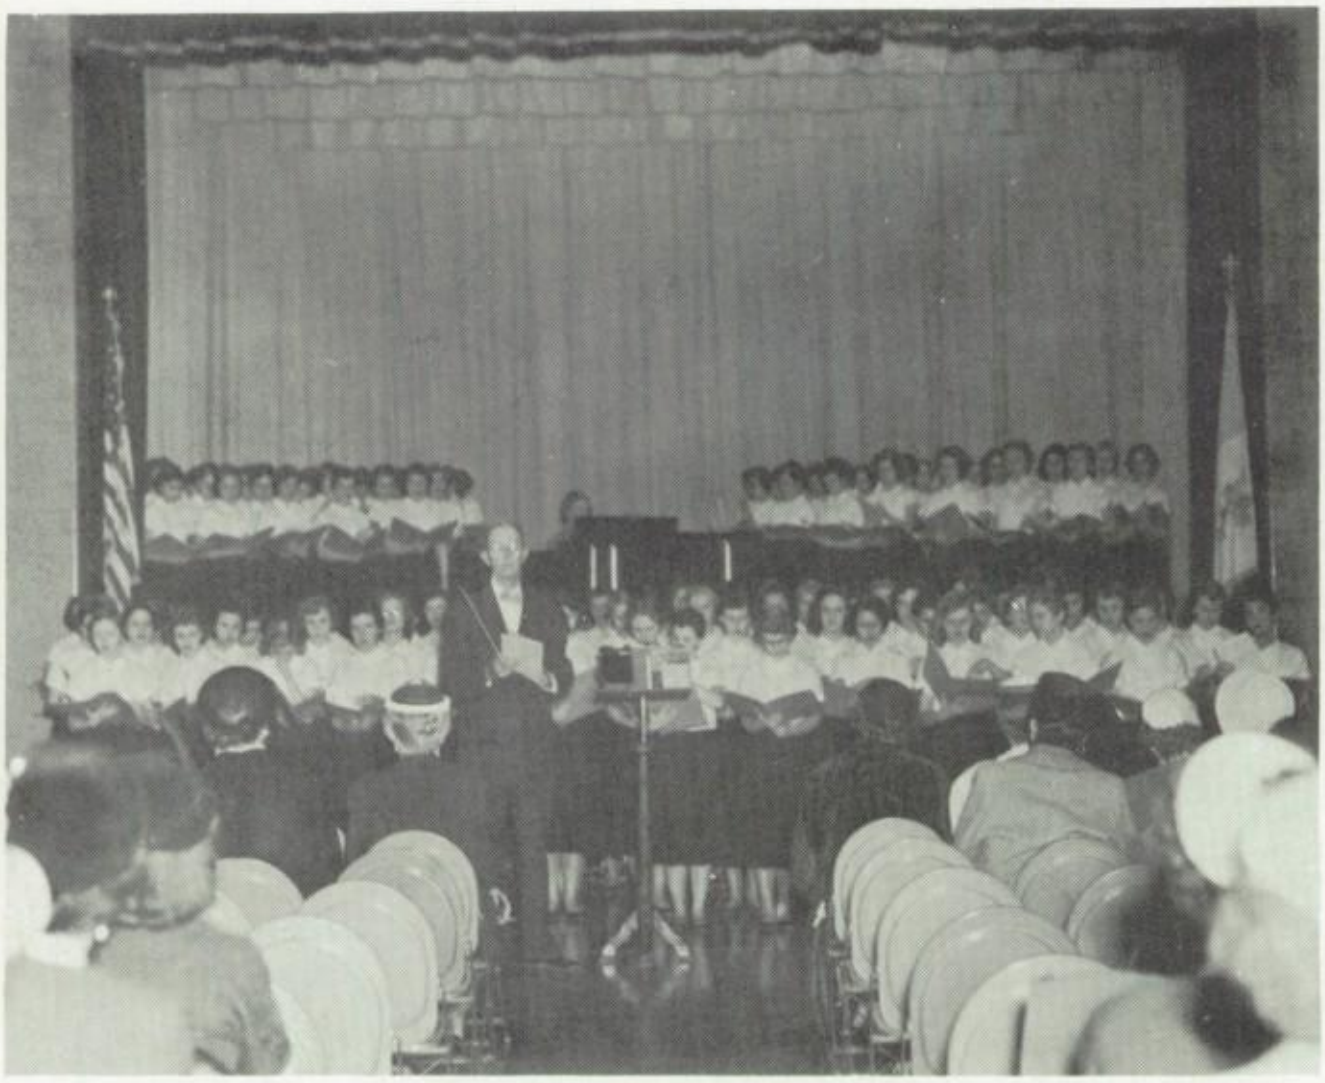
Kathryn Brautigan

"Surely you've heard of Osric Dane."

Sheila Dorney

"Knit, purl, drop a stitch!"

'The joys and all the pleasures . . . '



Mr. Fehring accompanies and directs the Choral Club at rehearsals on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Five-minute bell!! Waiting in line for a drink of that most popular SUA beverage—cold water—are Patty Kotte, Jackie Sheppard, Martha Wittekind, Diane Mairose, Kay and Donna Schubeler, and Martha Murphy. Checking last night's assignment before class are seniors Pat Kunzi, Arlene Anness, Marcella Huber, and Mary Lou Freeman.

Giggles and fun mark the mending of carol music, as generous volunteers work after school. Marilyn Rubin tells a funny one to Kathleen McDonough, Mary Alice Graser, Margaret Wenker, Carol Topicz, Mary Frances Fox, Ruth Lambers, Eileen O'Brien, and Frances Richter.

Leading the tray line in the cafeteria are hungry seniors, Sheila Dorney, Bonnie Laurie, Mary Hickey, Carol Schuchter, Betty Hoffman, Pat McDonald, and Virginia Haman.

Every First Friday CSMC-Sodality officers prepare the stage for the monthly meeting. Getting things ready are Mary Pat O'Brien, corresponding secretary; Nancy Folz, prefect; Molly Giller, treasurer; Mary Agnes Hickey, recording secretary; and Dorothy Crawford, vice prefect.

'We've shared every day . . .'

Class of '55

Nancy Eckert

"Mrs. Roby has a knack of making a little go a long way."

Jo Ann Esslinger

"Teachers are wacky."

Carol Elder

"Love that Florida sun."

Mary Louise Freeman

"It's all Fanny Roby's fault."

Nancy Folz

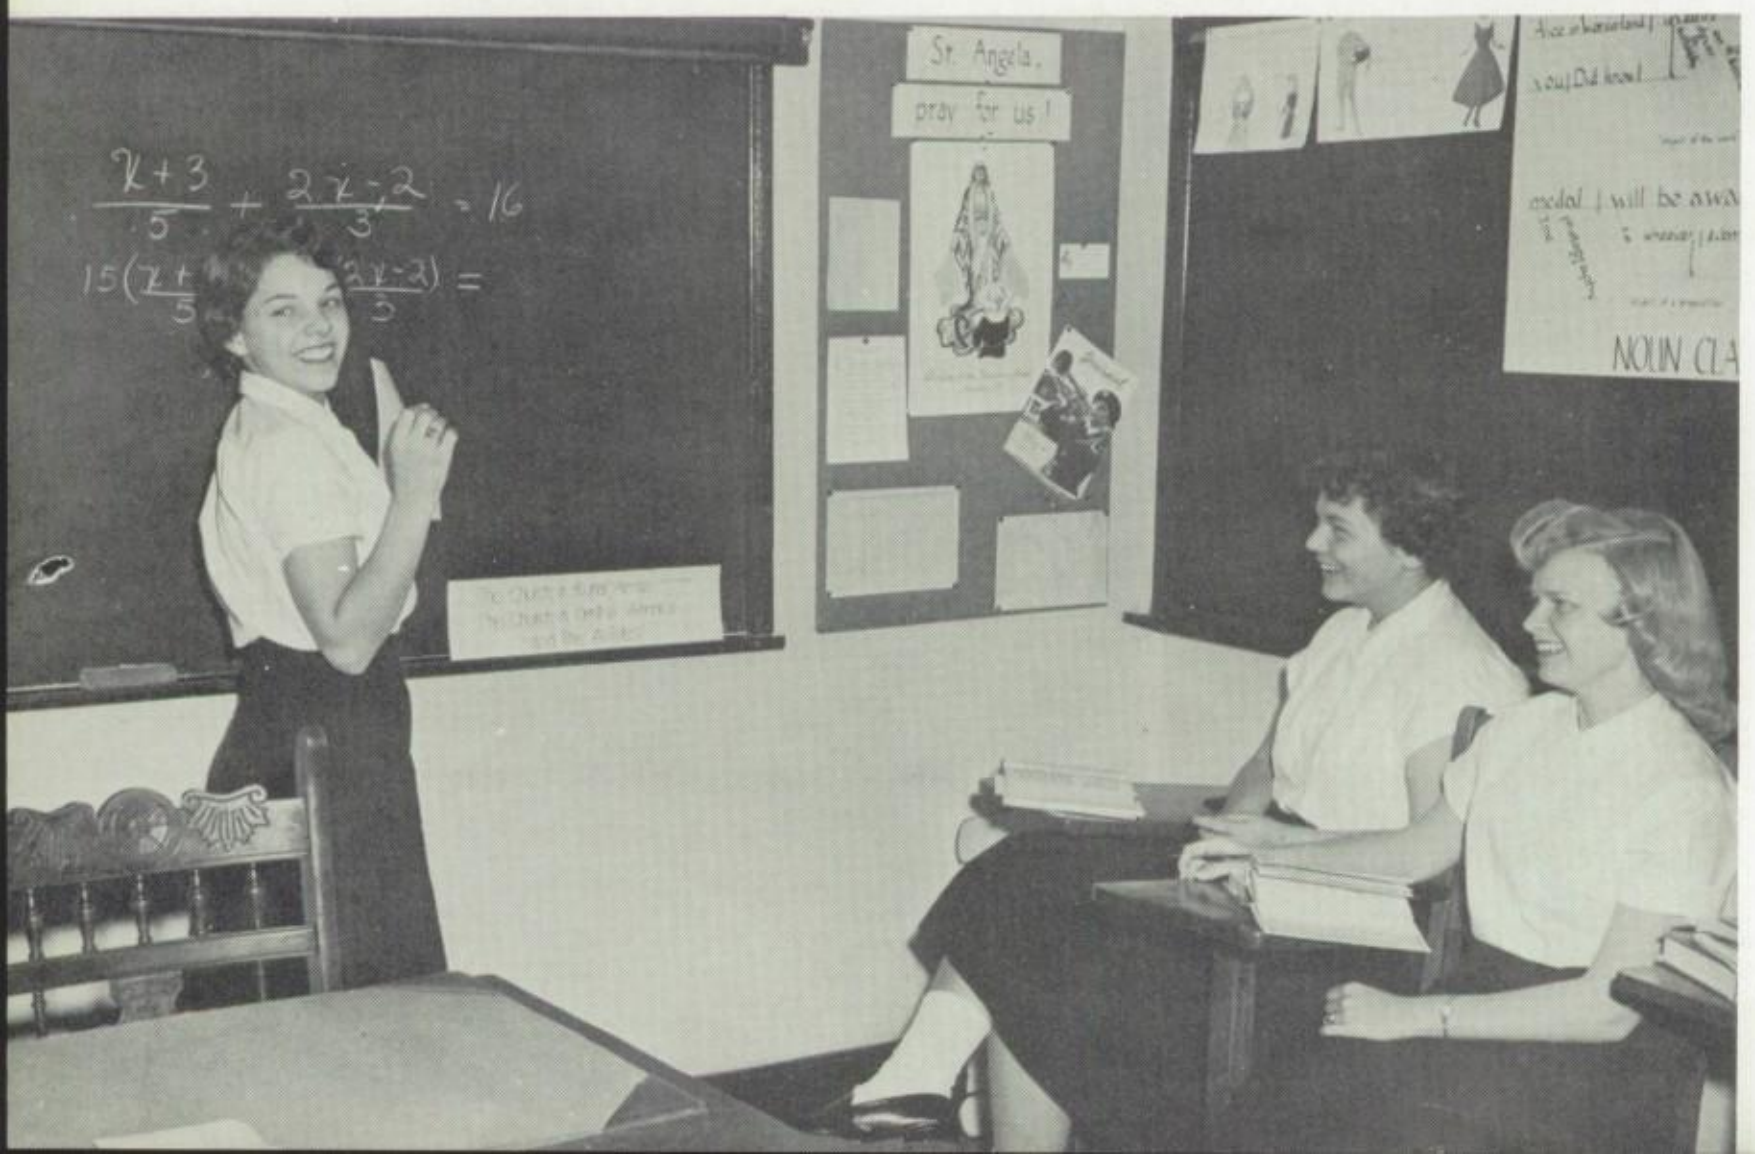
"We have a standard."

Virginia Haman

"Argument? Who's arguing?"

All eyes are focused on Sister Philip Neri as she tells an interesting story in Modern History. Eager listeners are Barbara Toerner, Diane Mairose, Jo Ann Esslinger, Marcella Huber, Peggy Ritter, and Mary Claire Murphy.

Smiles of relief are flashed by Sally Moore, Nancy Eckert, and Patty Kotte. Looks like Sally might solve that equation after all! The girls are members of Math III.

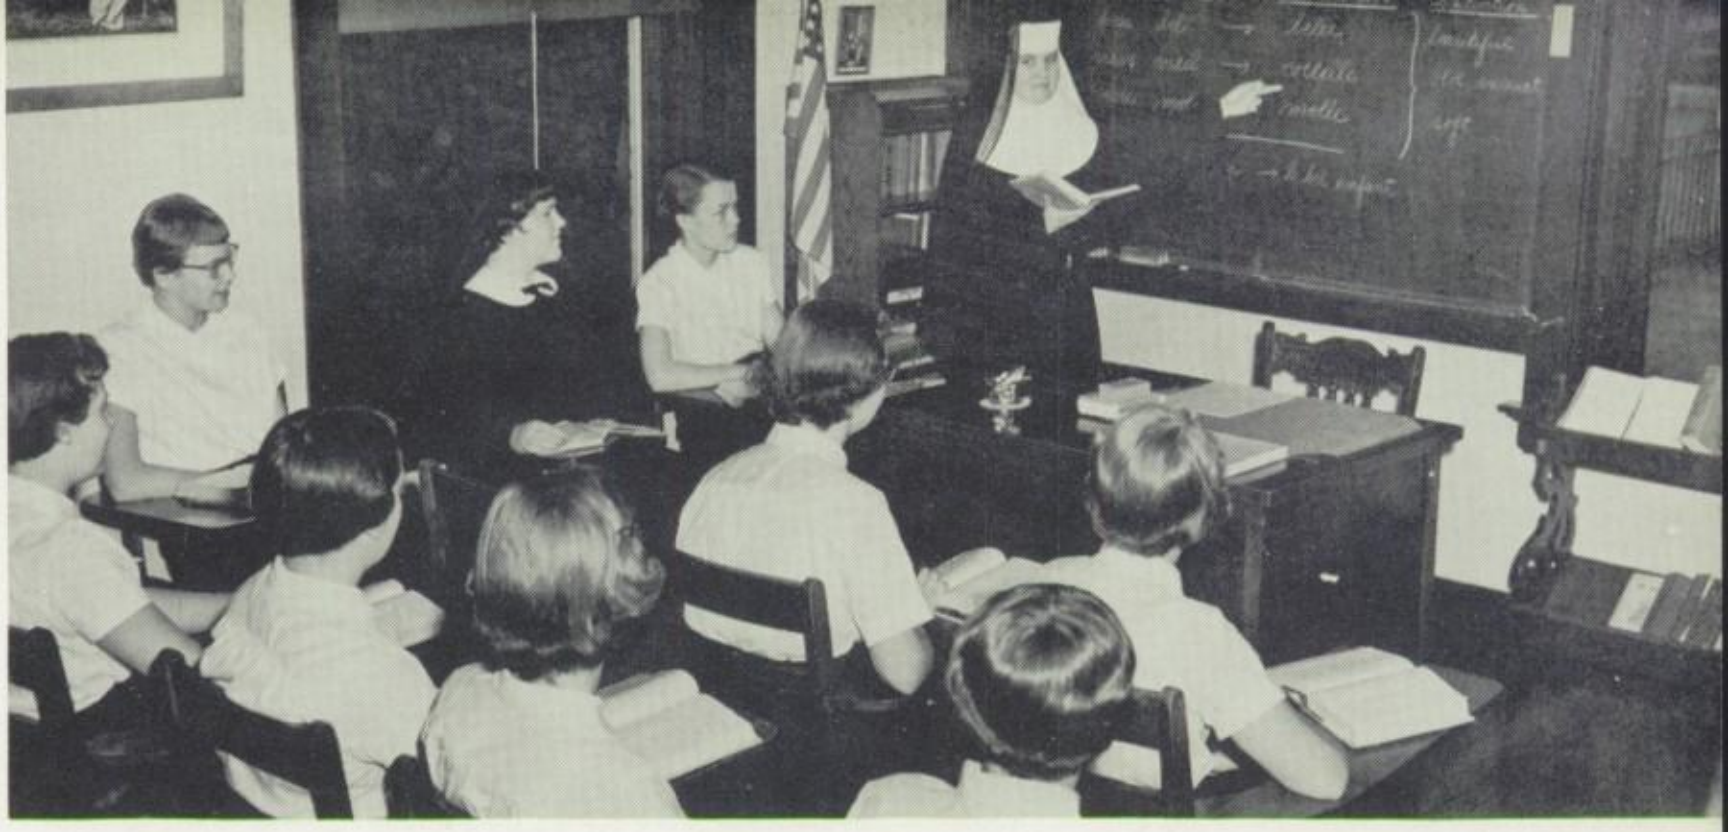


Senior "disc jockey," Nancy Eckert plays a recording of the "Cuckoo Song" in old English for English IV, while Sister Angela Mary points out the period of the poem in English Literature. Attentive seniors are Arlene Anness, Pat Kunzi, Alice Kollman, Mary Claire Murphy, Joan Lambers, Jessie Mountel, and Judy Bohart.

Home Ec II gathers in the sitting room they have decorated themselves to learn the intricate art of weaving. Future homemakers are Joan Metz, Barbara Toerner, Jane Metz, Peggy Ritter, Ruth Bissmeyer, and Kay Brautigan, with their teacher, Sister Sarah Ann.

Every year Sister Rose Angela sponsors a world-wide tour of the past for sophomores of the World History class. Studying the map are Carol Mitchell, Mary Alice Graser, Carol Schmidt, and Barbara Fromme.

Sister Ann Marie begins her Latin II class by leading the Pledge of Allegiance — in Latin, no less! "Fidem meam Obligo . . . ," say Joyce Ganim, Mary Helen Beimesche, Lloyd Altenau, Carol Schmidt, Carol Welling, Betty Nunner, Carol Justes, and Lois Grayson.



Sister Bernard Marie is a new member of the high school faculty this year. Equipped with no weapons at all, she prepares to teach French to the freshmen. Comprenez-vous?

Que le Bon Dieu vous bénisse!
Sœur Bernard Marie

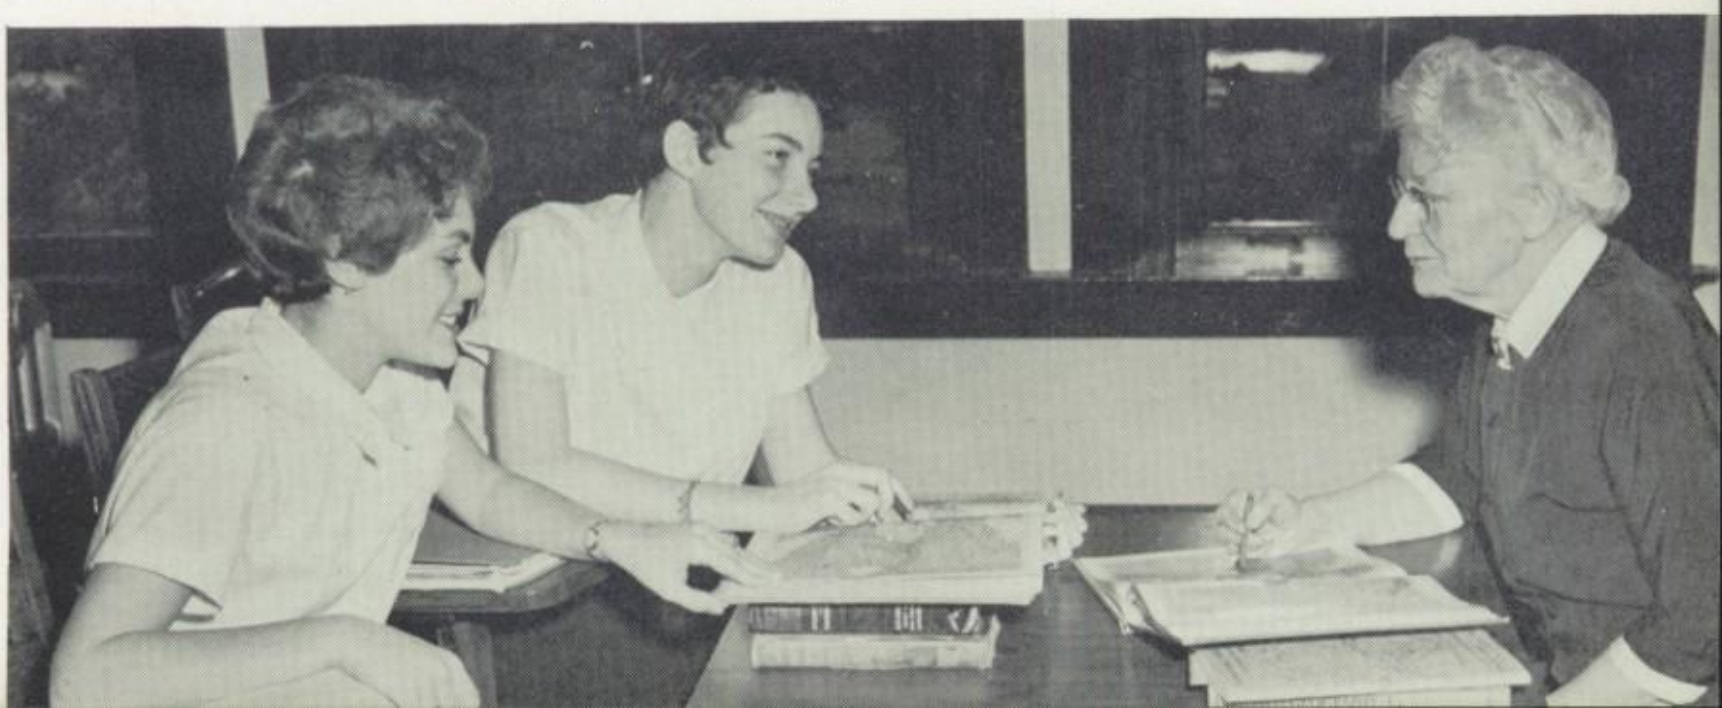
Miss Weber points out one of those "far away places with strange sounding names" to World Geography students, Angela Paolella and Barbara Shea.



'Deep in our hearts . . . '

Class of '55

Mary Agnes Hickey

"Steady, son, remember what the doctor said."

Marcella Huber

"Has it registered yet?"

Betty Hoffmann

"It was by the beautiful sea that Harold proposed to me."

Patricia Kotte

"Yes, ma'am."

Alice Kollman

"We want no indelicacy!"

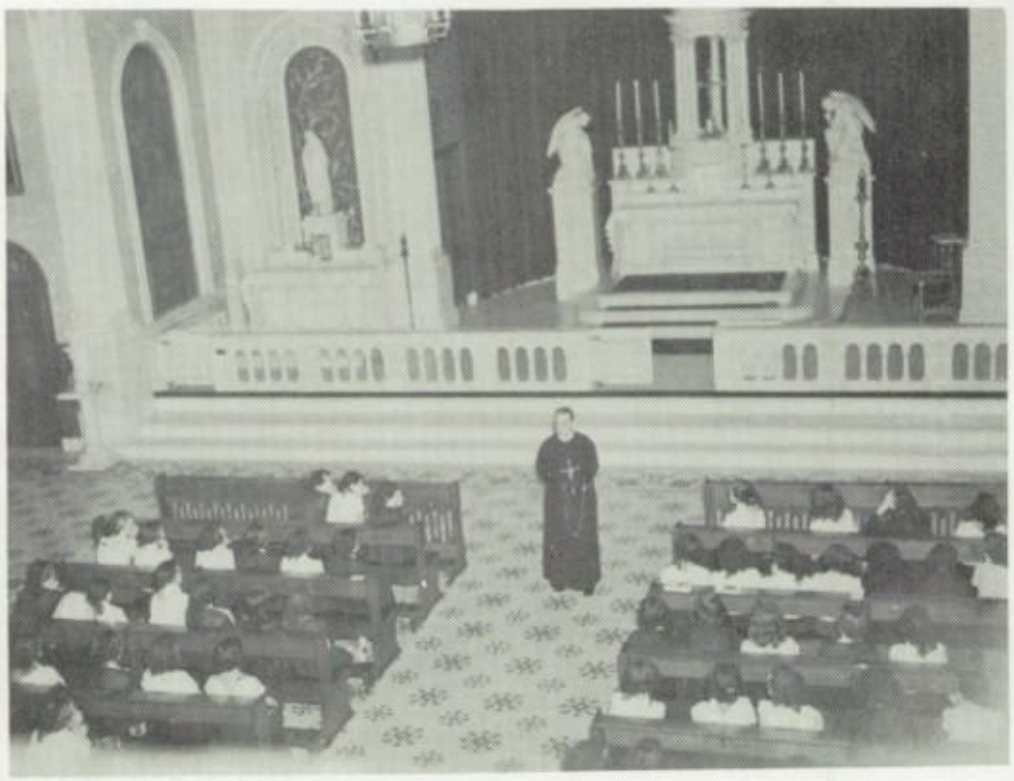
Patricia Kunzi

"I simply don't understand what's going on."

What senior will ever forget our two wonderful postulant-classmates? Maybe Sister Angela Mary and Sister Mary Louise are saying a little prayer for their former pals from the Class of '55.

The Class of '55 were true lovers of the theatre arts. Here they are in their freshman Algebra I assembly dressed in the garb of Chinese, Persians, Arabians, Babylonians, and (Heavens to Thespis!) high school students. Broadway, beware!

Each day we made a visit to Chapel asking Our Lady for assistance. She is always our merciful intercessor with her Son.



Three days when every girl does some serious thinking—the annual retreat. Remember their inspiration?

Martha Wittekind, Betty Hoffman, and Dorothy Crawford really burned the midnight oil when they made "Christ and Mary" candles for the Mothers Club Christmas sale.

The Christ-Candle
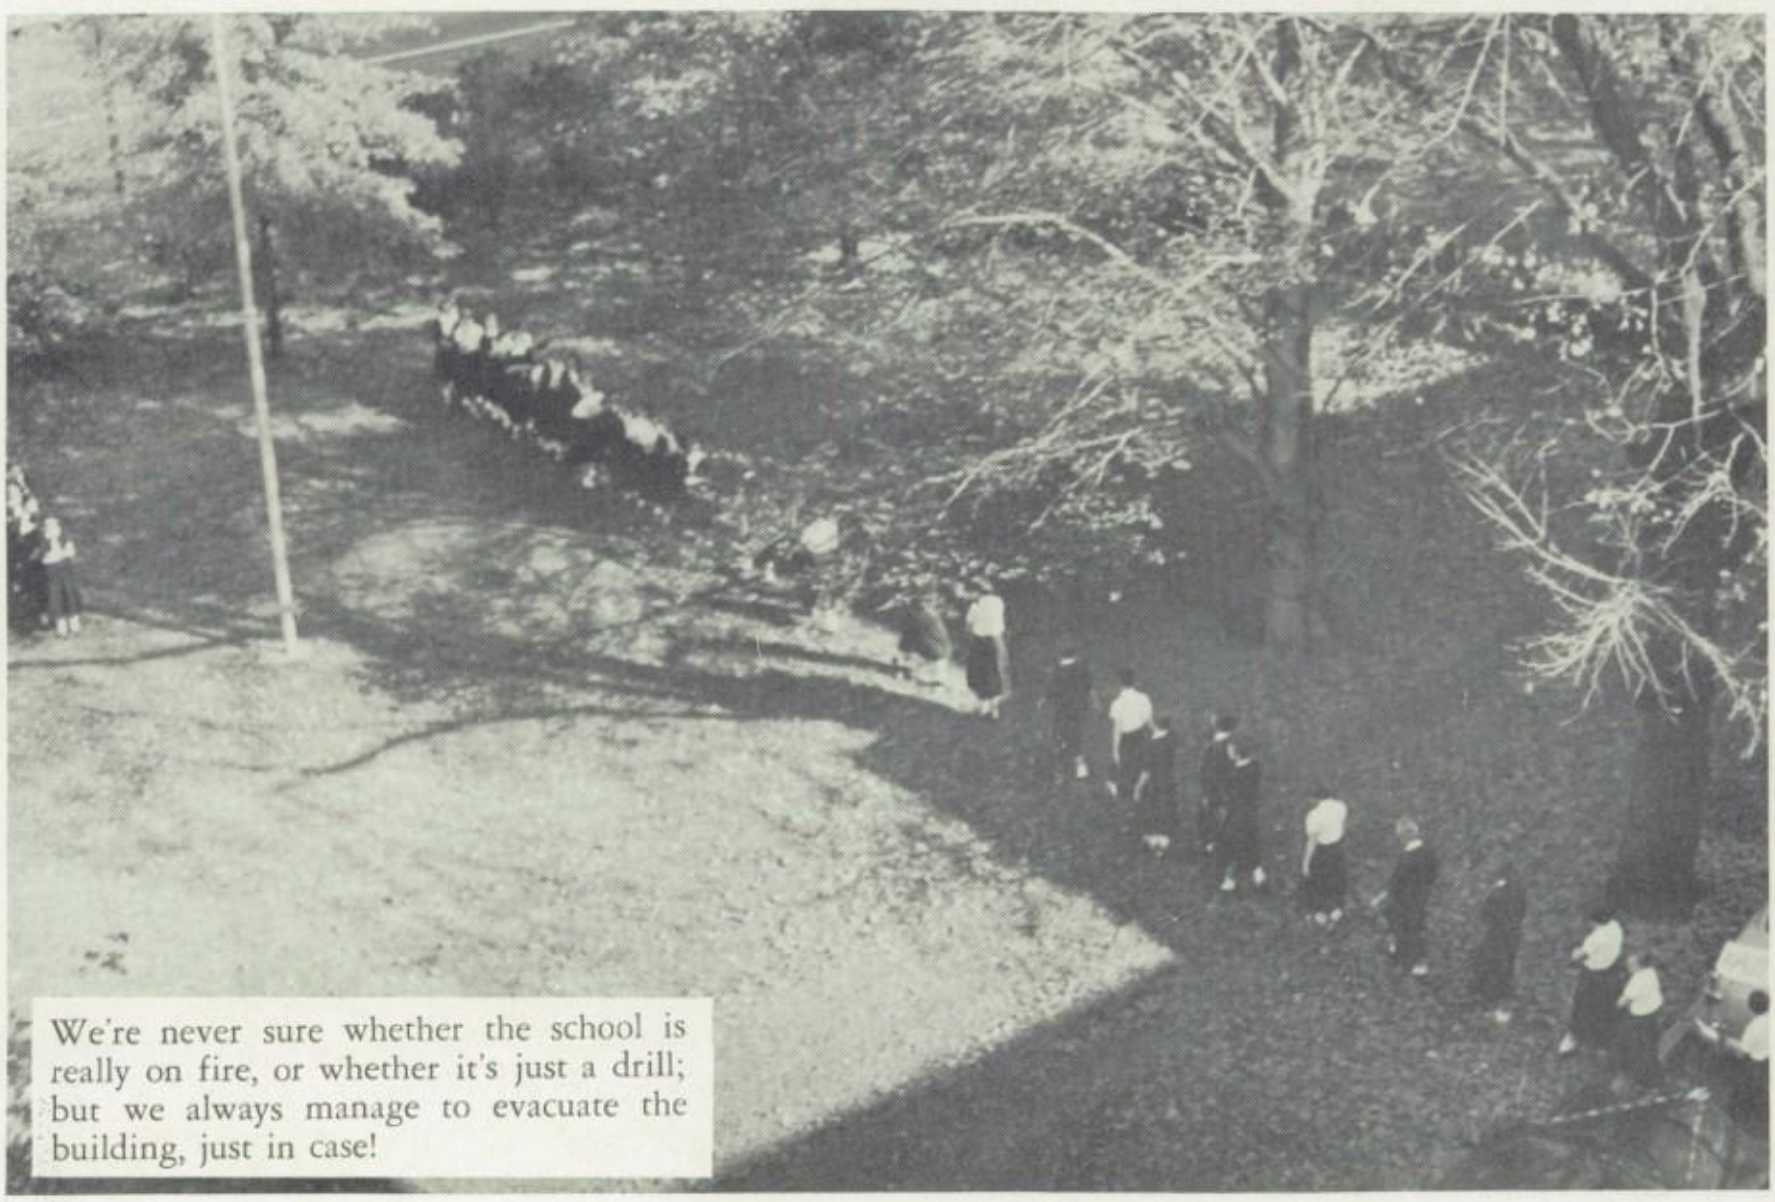
The Christmas Candle which you light represents Christ, the Light of the World.
At your window, it welcomes the guest.
At your table, it tells of His presence with us today

A good Variety Show is preceded by practice and more practice. Here we see Virginia Bowling, Dorothy Crawford, and Judy Bohart rehearsing an intricate step.

Father Koverman of Elder presents the coveted CAPA trophy to Pat McDonald who accepts on behalf of herself, Martha Wittekind, and Virginia Haman, editors of the 1953-54 LIGHT.



We're never sure whether the school is really on fire, or whether it's just a drill; but we always manage to evacuate the building, just in case!

'Whatever may come . . . '

Class of '55

Joan Lambers

"Do they get married in the end?"

Diane Mairose

"The cerebellum is not infrequently the seat of the literary emotions."

Bonnie Laurie

"I do love the National Geographic!"

Jane Metz

"We're allergic to all these old people."

Patricia McDonald

"I don't see you! Do you understand?
I don't see you!"

Joan Metz

"It isn't a cold. Ah choo!"

Could it be that Sister Mary Edward runs a home for retired ghosts? No, just retired Romans. The Latin III class dramatizes a famous line from Cicero's Orations, when he says to Cataline, "The senators fear you, a conspirator." Conspiring Romans are Phyllis Welch, Nancy Nolting, Paula Gieske, Martha Coldiron, Joan Karasek, and Rita Bischoff.

Sister Joan Marie gives a helpful demonstration on the use of the card catalog to a group of "fearless freshies" in English I.

All girls with an eye on a career find Sister Mary Angela's general business course a step in the right direction. In the picture are Rita Nier, Christine Rauen, Toni Nicholas, Jean Ryan, Mary Jean Smith, and Mary Kelly.

These "bugology" gals have quite a time finding the "streaming of the protoplasm" under their microscopes. These sophs are members of the biology class. They are Barbara Fromme, Toni Nicholas, Carol Mitchell, Joan Comello, and Pat Bertke.

Spanish II has the task of identifying (in Spanish, of course) the objects Donna Schubeler points out. Other señoritas are Alma Stallo, Barbara Fromme, Carol Mitchell, Carol Welling, Marilyn Orlando, Anne Hannafin, Carol Schmidt, Joan Comello, Lois Grayson, and Betty Nunner.

'We'll all to the love . . . '

Class of '55

Sally Moore

"Cats have nine lives, they say."

Mary Claire Murphy

"Poor kids!"

Jessie Mountel

"No offense intended."

Jacqueline Sheppard

"Certainly is a lovely day."

Peggy Ritter

"It all comes of accepting a woman on a man's estimation."

Barbara Toerner

"We all have our dreams."

"Shrimpie" Esslinger

"Pee Wee" McDonald

"Patsy" Kunzi

'Punkin" Anness

"Ancy" Eckert

Dramatics

Miss Foley meets with class chairmen to discuss the annual Speech Arts Tournament, this year consisting of original class plays based on the theme, "mistaken identity."

These seniors look very studious, but a hearty laugh is right below the surface.

Home Ec

C S M C

The Marian Pilgrimage, December 7, led by intermediate boys, leaves chapel.

Sodality of Our Lady

RIGHT: Nancy Folz, prefect, lays a bouquet at the feet of Our Lady's statue, as a symbol of the consecration of the entire student body to her.

"Elect Patty Kotte!" Seniors hold up their campaign sign on the day of CSMC elections. A portion of the motorcade demonstration used by Patty's supporters is also shown.

GAA

Mrs. Mullinger meets the GAA Board in her office. Sitting are Dorothy Crawford, president; Mrs. Mullinger, Joan Metz, and Peggy Anderson. Marjorie Thiel, Molly Giller, and Nancy Nolting are standing on the left.

Jessie Mountel's campaign managers give a final cheer for her as voting time draws near.

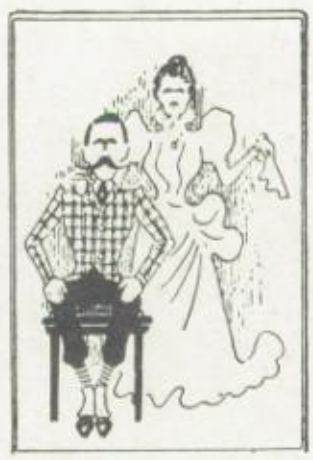
Paula Gieske, Carol Meyer, Molly Giller and dates are among the first to arrive at the GAA dance.

"'Waltz Me Around Again, Herman," sings a typical St. Ursula girl at the first date dance in new St. Angela Hall.



Queen

Directress

'For time shall never sever . . . '

Mother Mary Helen

Mother Mary Helen caught us peeking through her keyhole and she couldn't help smiling. Lively, enthusiastic, with a keen sense of humor, she really keeps St. Ursula going. Though always busy, she can find time to help a student in distress. Our Mother Helen is completing her fifteenth year as academy directress.

'The friendships we treasure . . . '

Carol – a wonderful friend who has trouble staying awake. Never forget the F slumber party.
Always remember,
Christine

To Carol,
A cute Red Cross girl who is having a time getting her Red Cross
Book finished.
P.S. I love this ink!
Love,

To carol.
One of the sweetest kids I know in our class. Let's have a good ix F. Have fun with Schultz.
Remember me.

To Carol
A cute kid -
Have fun with your pen
crakers
Love Lacy

To Carol.
A real neat F kid. Hope we both have as much fun in F as we have had this year.
Always remember.
Love
